Message from the Chair

> To the 2020 and 2021 informatics graduates, allow me to be one of many who offer my congratulations on this momentous accomplishment! Informatics is a challenging field, and it is worthy of note that many of you had to face additional obstacles while navigating your path towards a degree. You now join the larger AMIA community, no longer as a student, but a fully-fledged informatics professional! While there are many paths towards earning a degree, even the most traditional was thrown a curveball in 2020. One of the collective sacrifices we made in 2020 was giving up large gatherings, which cost many of you the opportunity to physically walk across the stage to receive your diploma. Nobody envisioned ending their academic journey via Zoom, and so this was the reason we wanted to create a special edition to help celebrate your accomplishment. Nothing we as the Student Working group can make up for that, but we can at least do our small part. The one consolidation I can offer is that while reaching the summit of your academic journey received a smaller fanfare than your peers in the past, it is just the first summit. The exciting thing is that you have the potential and skill to replicate that feat in new and innovate ways going forward. It will become a pivotal milestone for all of you but trust me when I say that the best is yet to come! I can't wait to see what you are able to accomplish, and I'm honored to welcome you as peers in our informatics tribe!
